Evan Myles is a highly promising 17-year-old goalkeeper currently with the senior first team at Livingston FC and dual registered with Whitburn Juniors FC in Scotland. Known for his maturity beyond his years, Evan combines natural shot-stopping ability with a modern, well-rounded skill set that makes him a standout prospect between the posts. Comfortable with the ball at his feet, he excels in distribution with both his left and right foot, allowing his team to build play confidently from the back. His composure under pressure is a defining trait, enabling him to make smart decisions even in high-intensity moments. In one-on-one situations, Evan shows excellent timing and bravery, often coming out on top against attacking players. His shot-stopping ability is sharp and reliable, with quick reflexes and strong positioning helping him deal effectively with efforts on goal.

Beyond his technical strengths, Evan demonstrates strong command of his area. He is vocal and organized, constantly communicating with his defenders to maintain structure and control. His presence in the box, particularly during crosses and set pieces, reflects both confidence and leadership potential. With a solid foundation and an impressive mindset, Evan is a young goalkeeper with the tools and temperament to progress to a high level in the game.
